Never Alone But

On Our Own

In his differences, his complexities and his uniqueness each individual of Lousburg College is like a snowflake. None being the same and each having his own distinctive characteristics.

Although free and independent the students here come together to form one large unit.

Being themselves, students by nature merge; yet they retain their personal attributes. They become as one; still they keep their freedom to be an individual.

Reaching out to touch someone. Dawn gradually awaits an answer at the other end.

After enjoying a terrific day at Little Theatre and in between of and with the day activities of Louisa College.

"On Our Own," but not without others, the students of Louisa College find a small school has its advantages. They find a friendly faculty and staff to make their stay enjoyable. "The Sense of Direction" is the college's theme and for the students that means the road to excellence. The college believes in giving the students the over-ride of free expression and because of this, the students' common distinctive characteristics that give an otherwise relatively small student body the freedom to be themselves.

The view of Little Theatre pool to be as surprising, both Chris and Mike. What was for their next day to enjoy.

Enjoying time at the (at least) one Thompson and Jeff Hanks enjoy a moment of peace and quiet.

STUDENT LIFE

Leadership Conference

Getting on the bus to Camp Rockfish is Larry Brooks.

Excited about being back. Judy Cooke tells Daphne Burden and Delthine Watson about her summertime experiences.

On August 15, a group of 45 brave and daring Louisburg College students and Student Affairs staff traveled to Camp Rockfish in Cumberland County near Fayetteville. In the background the sound of artillery blasting away at Fort Bragg and the heat of the day would not deter the spirit of all who made the trip. It would be the third time for some of us to Camp Rockfish to interact with each other, to get involved with each other, and learn how to work with each. The Leadership Training Conference is a time for all who are in residence work to train and learn how to work out specific problems and how to communicate effectively. We left with great expectations and returned back to campus with a sense of readiness and reality to face the tasks ahead. It was an experience to remember. It was a good experience.

Setting up to return the valley to J.P. Perry is Merritt Darm's own Barbi McKay.

Enjoying their free time canoeing around the lake at Camp Rockfish are Beth Bates and Bill Holcomb

Getting ready for her turn to go through the tire on the training course is Beth Bates

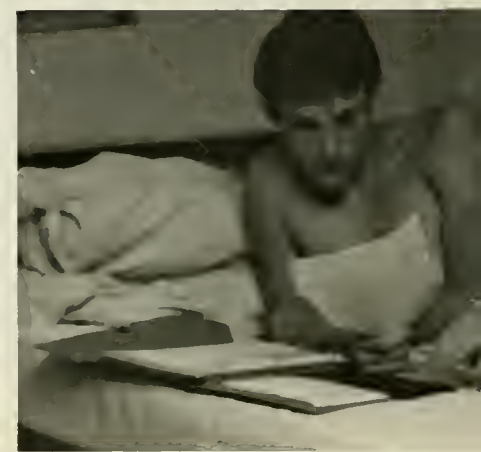

Hanging on, with a little help from Ron Dalton, is Jeannie Wolff preparing to go through the tire

Dorm Life . . .

Chad Gant and Mike Millena are checking the beams of their loft to make sure they are sturdy. Writing a paper is a task, but Joy Gurganus finds the most comfortable position. Bill Melvin finds the best way to study at night.

The 1st Annual mudslide during summer school was not enough for some of these college students, they had to have another to break in the fall semester. The swing set is a popular place during the warm days of summer, pictured here as a typical summer day at the SWING

Dorm Life At Lou . . .

Jeff Jefferies and Billy Holliday enjoy an afternoon sitting outside strumming a few chords on the guitar. Scott takes a quick rest in an empty room just before moving his things in. A new freshman moves her things into Wright Dorm on Opening Day

Tim Horn brings his favorite chair to make his room more comfortable. Getting the new look, Mary Sherson gives Chris Vang the bleached look for the summer days ahead. Enjoying a relaxing evening in their room are Joy Gurganus and Kim Steinbeck.

Beth Ann Bates unpacks her things while trying to move into her new room.

Showing their excitement to be at Camp Rockfish are Tracey Burchette, Mark Hargrove, Judy Cooke, and Lewis Hooks.

Patten Staff: Stuart Higgins, Bill Sabiston, Mark Hargrove, Doug Buttram, Mike Tyler, Lowell Davis, Barry Crabtree, and Larry Brooks.

Wright Staff: Susie McGee, Tammy Mitchell, Boo Coble, Sigrid Kesler, Monica Raynor, Delthine Watson, Amy Joseph, and Devetta Andrews.

Having a great time building teamwork at Camp Rockfish are Resident Life Staffers from Franklin, Merritt, and Patten dorms

Kenan Staff: Tracey Burchette, Daphne Burden, Rob Dunnington, Jackie Conner, Tracey Walker, Beth Joyner, and Judy Cooke.

Merritt Staff: Missy Cheney, Candi Spain, Beth Bates, Jeannie Wolf, Dawn Rodden, Kathy VanDeusen, Cheryl Russell, Barbi McKay, Nadine Kennedy, and Joy Gurganus.

Hillman Staff: J.P. Perry, Ralph Wall, Sid Bridgeforth, Russell Miles, and Lewis Hooks.

Franklin Staff: Ron Dalton, Tom McPhail, and Bill Holcomb.

Listening attentively to the Camp Director's instructions are Dawn Rodden and Jeannie Wolff

The Slave Auction

Prepared to work, Kelly Way and Stephanie Anderson are dressed for the occasion.

Party with the party chicks, Joy Gurganus and Meri Shearson.

Once again the annual Slave Auction combined success with a lot of fun. In the auction students with a good sense of humor are sold to the highest bidder. The next day "the slaves" must do anything their owner wishes. This year's auction raised money for the Christmas Formal. Ray Mize was the auctioneer. Joe Smith received the highest bid of thirty dollars while Ron Dalton and Mark Hargrove raised the most for two people bringing in sixty dollars.

"Sold to the man in the back." Ray Mize auctions off the slaves.

Highest paid slaves were Mark Hargrove and Ron Dalton.

Carrying a heavy load, Kelly Starnes tries selling two for the price of one

In rare form for the auction, bidders see why this slave's name is "Adjustable Joe Smith"

Dressed with unusual style, Michelle Michael and Cathy Croser "ham it up" for the audience

Looking down home as usual, Rhonda Weaver and Suzanne Colwell smile for the bidders

Parent's Day

President Norris enjoys talking to some of the parents.

Parents Day is our day to show the parents how we're doing "On our Own." The day began with refreshments on the library terrace and a presentation in the auditorium where the Glee Club and Ensemble got the chance to show off their talents. The parents enjoyed lunch in the cafeteria which was followed by Parent-Teacher meetings. The day proved to be enjoyable and provided the parents with a way to become familiar with the students new way of life "On their Own."

Homecoming 1985

Homecoming at Louisburg College has a way of filling the air with excitement. The Hurricanes started the night off with a powerful win over North Greenville College. Following the game there was a Homecoming dance where the new Queen, Stephanie Anderson, was crowned. First runner-up was Cathy Crosier, Second runner-up was Jane Thompson; the rest of the court consisted of Jennifer Mann, Kelly Cozart, Dena Boyette, Martha Infante, Kelly Starnes, and Gwn Struzik.

It proved to be a great night for everyone as the tradition of Louisburg College continued for another year.

Sitting on the stairs of the Metropolitan Museum in New York City are Cecelia Medland, Heather Collins, Melissa Harrison, William Hinton, Lowell Barefoot, and Cecelia Zeller

One of the sights seen in a New York museum is an electrically charged plasma display that was touched by Melissa Harrison and Heather Collins. A sight not often seen is a bust of the Roman Emperor, Augustus, from the Metropolitan Museum. A beautiful view of New York City from Central Park. Art Director William Hinton studies a florentine painting in a small art gallery.

The Making Of . . .

No one said the second time around would be any easier than the first. That is the second annual Snowflake Ball. Money was raised through the sales of candy, pumpkingrams, doughnuts, The Slave Auction, and ticket sales. The planning for the ball began when last year's ball ended. Through the hard work of Michelle Michael, Judy Cooke, Delthine Watson, Dean McLeod, and a small committee of ten they were determined to make the night of December 11th one to remember.

Working diligently, Suzanne Colwell, Missy Cheney, and Cathy Crosier make snowflakes for the ball.

Using his artistic ability, Ron Dalton gives the Christmas Formal committee a hand.

Showing enthusiasm, Michelle Michael, Missy Cheney and Julie Hobart get to work on the decorations

Putting on the finishing touches, Michelle Michael works on last minute preparations for the dance

Risking his life, Mark Hargrove show he'll do anything for a good cause

Finally the finished product

The Snowflake Ball

Obviously having a wonderful time dancing are Buddy Hyde and Missy Cheney

The last snowflake had been hung and the last light on the tree had been lit. The guests began to arrive, girls adorned in formal dresses and their escorts in ties or in tails. The second annual Snowflake Ball was well underway. The guests danced all night to the sounds of Bill Sabiston. As the evening festivities continued and the last song was played, all involved felt the warmth of the Christmas spirit and cheer. It was indeed a time to remember.

Relaxing from all the festivities are Kelly Way and Brian White

Enjoying the time together and sharing a close moment are Paula Neal and Howie Malloy

Sharing the dance floor with other faculty and staff are Jeff and Beth Adams

The Christian Life Council has a way of making everything special. Every year they have a Christmas party for the needy children throughout Franklin county. Christmas Carols are sung, games are played, and of course Santa arrives with a gift for every child. The Christian Life Council has brought Christmas Spirit to the hearts of many children over the years Spirit they might not have had without the CLC.

A little hot air is all it takes.

"Thanks, Santa"

Steve Burkehead chases his son during the festivities

Finally, the candy hits the floor

No Christmas is complete without a gift from Santa

Standing before a large number of participants are Jacqué Chalmers, Mistress of Ceremonies and Speaker H.M. "Mickey" Michaux.

Black History Month

On February 20, 1986, North Carolina House Representative H.M. "Mickey" Michaux visited Louisburg College to take part in Black History Observance Month. Mr. Michaux expressed in a speech, given in the Multi-purpose Room of the Jordan Student Center, "that the black race should learn from the past and forge on." He described Black American as "the most patriotic in our society." Michaux cited the Vietnam conflict as an example. "Blacks died in greater proportions in Vietnam than any other group." Prior to his address, there was a reception held in the Blue Room of the Benjamin Duke Cafeteria.

Speaking about the evening activities are Delthine Watson and H.M. Michaux.

Chatting with alumni is Canley Hilliard.

Speaking to Mr. Michaux, after his address, is Assistant Dean of Student Affairs, Kellie McLeod

Reciting poetry from Author Langston Hughes is Russell Miles

Singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" are the Louisburg College Singers Jacque' Chalmers, Lebra Morgan, Kim Williams and Tracey Tucker

Valentine's Dance

Valentine's Day has a way of putting love in the hearts of Louisburg College students. What better way to bring them all together than a dance?

The SGA put on its annual Valentine's Dance. The King and Queen of the dance were Ron Dalton and Barbi McKay. They raised the most money for the heart fund.

The dance supported a good cause and helped the students relax and enjoy themselves.

Not camera shy in the least are James Wescott, Christy Hodges, Bryan White, and Kelly Way.

Trying to talk Bryan Gore into a dance is Stephanie Anderson

The crowd enjoys dancing to the sounds of Rick Dement

Arriving fashionably late are Bill Melvin, Jennifer Robinson, and Kelly Boley

Giving everyone a warm welcome, Dean McLeod and Barbi McKay take time out to smile for a picture

Enjoying the evening are Llayd Jacobs and Lynn Woody

Talent Show

Louisburg students had the chance to see our rising stars as the SGA presented "Lovin' Every Minute Of It."

Members of the student body competed for cash prizes and enjoyed performing before their friends.

Jeff Jeffries and Wade Potter took first prize for a song they wrote and performed.

Second prize went to Stephanie Anderson who sang "There are Worse Things I Could Do," from the movie "Grease."

Third prize went to Melanie Dean for her version of "Second Hand Heart."

Faculty members served as judges and it wasn't an easy job. All of the contestants performed to perfection and the audience enjoyed a night of fun.

Singing her way to the top. Stephanie Anderson captures 2nd place.

Winning 3rd place, Melanie Dean displays her singing talent.

Managing to keep all three balls in the air, Seth Washburn shows off for the audience.

"Lovin' Every Minute Of It," the audience enjoys the show.

Performing their version of the Lousburg Blues, Jeff Jetties and Wado Potter have no problem winning the talent show

Singing backup for the Doo Drops, Lloyd Jacobs and Tony Droppelman ham it up for the audience

"You don't send me flowers," sings Candi Spain to Bill Sabistan

Chapel Dedication

On April 24, 1986 the Clifton L. Benson Chapel and Religious Life Center was dedicated and officially opened its doors. Trustee Ben Jordan, who began the ceremony, called the occasion "a momentous moment in the life of Louisburg College."

Dr. Norris praised Mr. Benson for his generosity for making the Chapel a reality for the campus and community of Louisburg and Thanked God for Mr. Benson.

Dr. Thomas S. Yow, former assistant to President Norris and now President of Martin College, said he was proud of what he saw.

Taking the podium with a standing ovation, Mr. Benson was very pleased about the completion of the Chapel and thanked all those who helped secure needed funds to build the Religious Life Center.

The Chaplain of Louisburg College, Rev. Sidney Stafford, gave the invocation to start the dedication ceremonies.

Standing in front of the Chapel and Religious Life Center he helped make possible is Clifton L. Benson.

Dr. Yow and Mrs. Norris, center, lead Mr. Benson and college well-wishers to the Chapel dedication.

Intramurals

The Intramural Department consists of a wide variety of sports at Louisburg College. The excitement of intramural sports is not only for the student body but it gives the faculty and staff a chance to participate. The Intramural Department gives students the opportunity to learn the rules and regulations of sports they have never played before. It also teaches good sportsmanship and how to be a team member and not just an individual. The main goals of the Intramural Department are to fill the recreational needs of the students leisure time. Intramurals will help the students gain cooperation, sportsmanship and new friendships.

ACADEMICS

Fine Arts

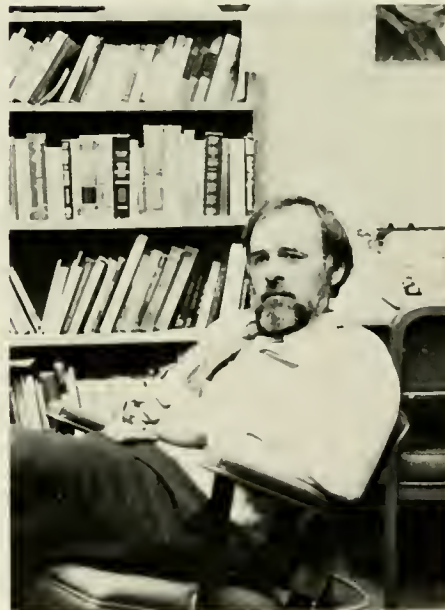

Sarah Foster, who is currently chair of the Fine Arts Department, enjoys teaching Music Appreciation as well as Glee Club and Ensemble.

William Hinton always has new suggestions and ideas for all of his Art classes.

Rick Byrd, our new Photography teacher, shows the basic skills of Photography.

Ray Mize is still the Humanities coordinator of cultural experiences and Arts.

Charley-John Smith is the Drama Director and is always looking for a new talent among our students.

The Fine Arts Department is still going strong with performing Arts and Humanities.

Surrounded by her students, Sarah Foster rehearses with her Glee Club students for their Spring concert.

Department chair Sarah Foster is enjoying her last year here at Louisburg, after forty-one years. She has really brought out Louisburg at its best with Ensemble and Glee club. We will really miss her.

Rich Bryd is a new addition to the Fine Arts Department. He keeps things together in the photo lab, where students learn to take and develop pictures.

William Hinton still brings out culture and excitement in all of his art classes, including Art History

Ray Mize is still growing strong with Humanities class and has just taken his second trip to Europe with students from Louisburg.

On Our Own With The Help Of Business Department

Business Department Chair Betsy Pernell, teaches her students with great enthusiasm.

Edna Jones, in her first year at Louisburg College, is an assistant professor in Business.

Whit Shearin teaches his students with wisdom and knowledge.

Matt Brown pulls double duty in the Business Department as well as the Math Department.

Business Department chairman Betsy Pernell, is very excited about three new word processors here at Louisburg College. She also claims that they are "the best thing to happen in her classes since she's been here at Louisburg College."

Diane Denton listens intently as Mrs. Pernell explains a program.

Ruth Jones is a new addition to the staff, teaching office machine classes, shorthand, word processing, and business English. She is from Rocky Mount and formerly a teacher at Northern Nash Senior High School.

Mrs. Pernell also said that she and other members of the Business Department attended the annual Business Education Conference held in Charlotte.

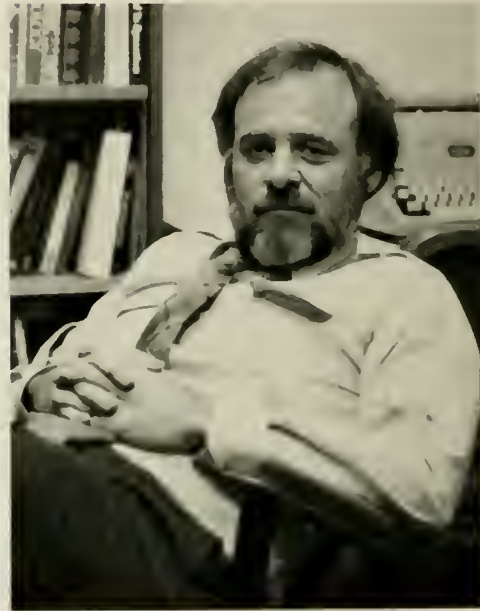

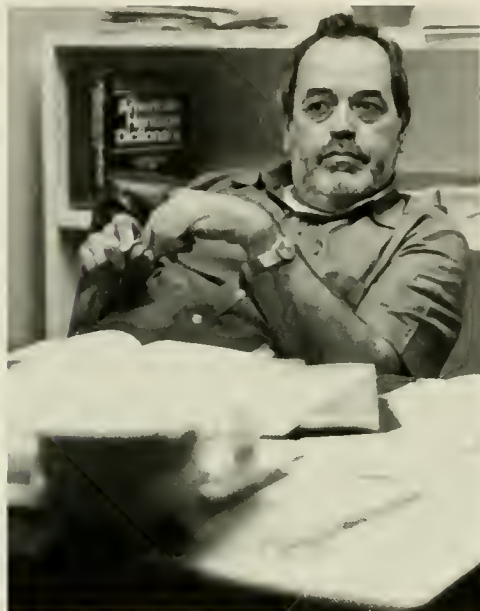

On Our Own With The Help Of Others

English Department

Michael Palmer is Chair of the English department and publishes numerous papers despite his busy schedule.

Rebecca Allen is enjoying her second year at Louisburg. She adds much enthusiasm to the English department.

Al Wright always seems to have great encouragement for his students and fellow faculty members. "hang in there!"

Wade Vickrey assumed full-time faculty status this year after teaching part-time last year in the English Department.

Jennie Brooks not only teaches English composition, she also teaches a course in Short Story

Dr. Michael Palmer is head of the English department along with teaching English 101 and 102. He feels that acquiring good writing skills and being able to deal with the fundamentals of literature and speech are very important.

Dr. Palmer says he enjoys helping students here at Louisburg. Mr. Palmer also enjoys creative writing in his spare time.

Dean of Students Craig Eller also teaches English composition

Foreign Language & Psychology

Allen Dehart, Director of Public Affairs, teaches psychology.

Kellie McLead, Assistant Dean of Students, teaches psychology.

Beth Burkhead is a first year faculty member at Louisburg. She teaches psychology.

Harriet Sturges teaches French here at Louisburg. She also sponsors the French Club.

The Foreign Language and Psychology Department welcomed new members, Kellie McLeod and Beth Burkehead.

Mrs. McLeod is also Assistant Dean of Students. She holds the Master of Student Personnel from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Listening to Mrs. Sturges lecture is Angela Woodlief and Dean Boyette

Mathematics

Math Department Chair Grady Snyder, teaches probability and statistics and calculus with analytic geometry.

Grady Snyder, Chair of the Math Department, says that they are hoping to expand the math department. This is the first year of the pre-engineering program and the department is planning to have a new faculty position filled next year.

Snyder says that here at Louisburg College, students get a lot of special individual attention. An example of this is the math labs which allows students to get extra help. The goal of the Math Department is to help each individual student to become mathematically literate.

Martha Bragg takes great interest in teaching her students the basics in math, whether it be in college algebra, contemporary math, or trigonometry.

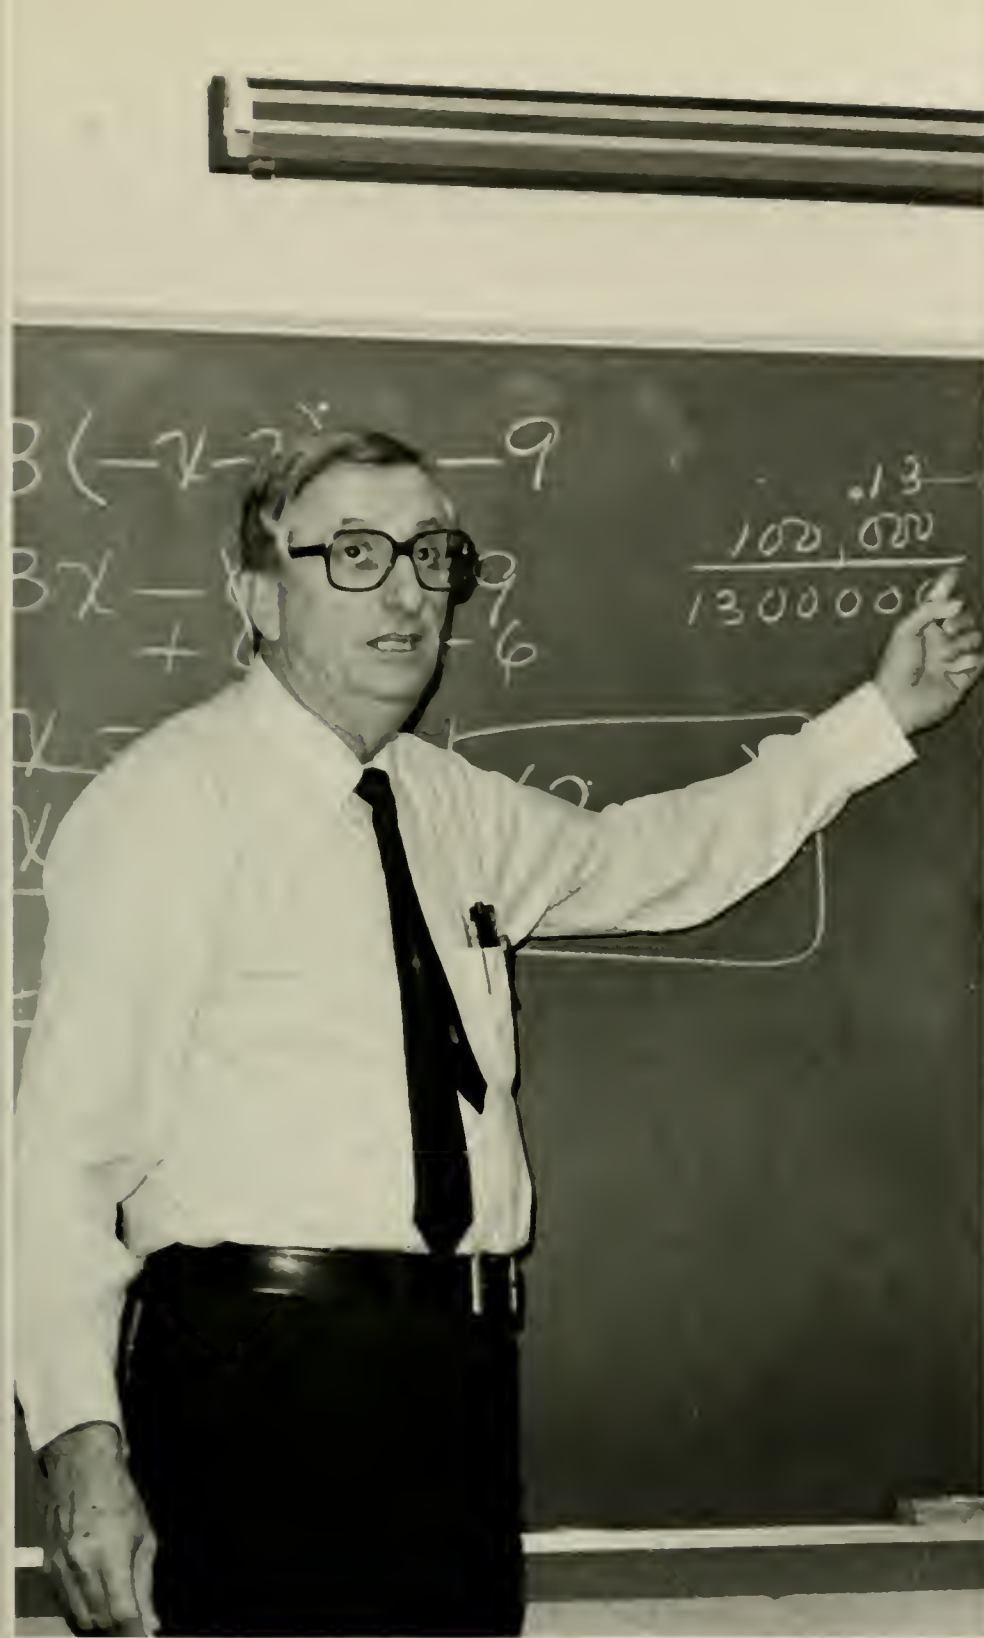

Steve Howard teaches computer courses in addition to his math department responsibilities.

Martha Hobgood makes sure her students understand thoroughly the concepts of algebra and contemporary math.

Chairperson Grady Snyder has been at Louisburg College since 1965. He is a graduate from Louisburg, and received his Bachelor degree and Masters degree from UNC at Chapel Hill.

Religion

The Religion Department is Chaired by Dr. Mac Ricketts and staffed by Mr. Charles Farmer, Mr. Sidney Stafford, and Mr. Walter McDonald. The primary purpose of the department is to lead students into an intellectual confrontation with beliefs and questions about matters of ultimate concern. Another purpose of the department is to enlighten the students, by teaching religion, instead of indoctrinating the students to develop particular religious attitudes.

Dr. Mac Ricketts is currently head of the Religion department.

Mr. Sidney Stafford, teaches religion class as well as ethics.

Mr. Charles Farmer teaches Old and New Testament along with Logic.

Students listen carefully as Dr. Ricketts gives a lecture

Physical Education

Ruth Cooke, chair of the Physical Education Department, mixes humor with exercise.

Enid Drake coaches the men's basketball team. He also teaches basketball and weight training.

Sam White is our Intramurals Director.

Sheilah Cotten is the coach of the women's softball and basketball teams.

Elliott Avent is our Sports Information Director and also serves as assistant baseball coach.

The Physical Education Department offers students a wide variety of courses in which they can develop skills and competences. The members of the department are firm believers in the development of a healthy mind and body.

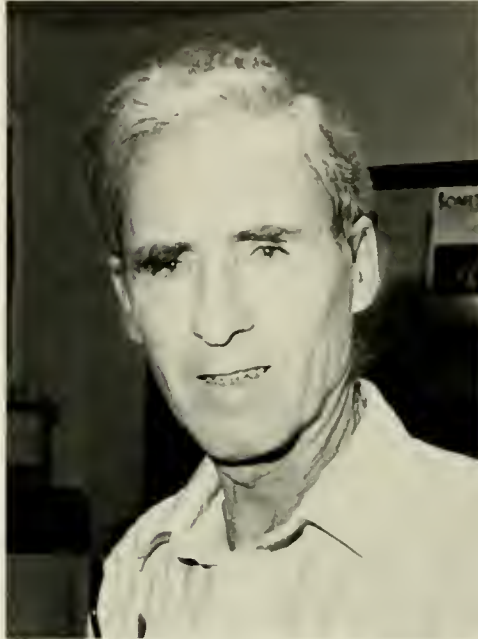

Coach Frazier has had his 600th win this season in baseball. Congratulations coach and team.

Science

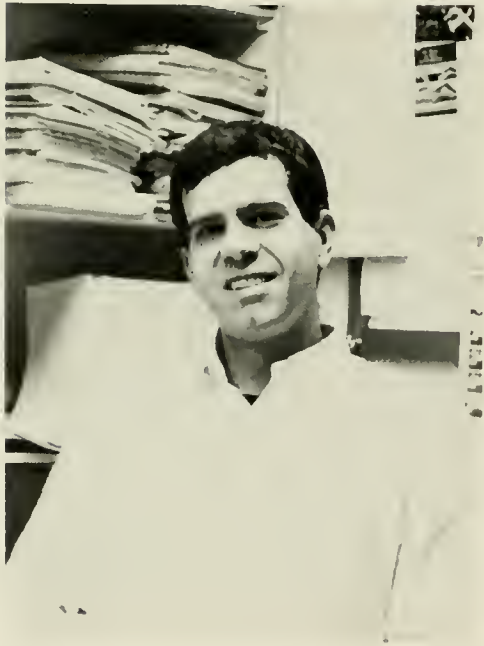

Patricia Palmer is the head of the Science Department this year. She teaches Biology and Botany.

Seth Washburn is currently teaching Biology part-time. He enjoys helping students outside of class as well as in class.

Janet Hatley teaches Environmental and Principles of Biology. She is concerned with environmental issues that continue to face us.

Gene Spears is a new faculty member of the Science Department. He has enjoyed his new experiences at Louisburg College.

Clara Frazier is our Chemistry lab teacher, she spends as much time with her students as she can.

Ken Goehle is teaching Zoology and Human Anatomy in addition to Biology for his second year.

Ron Hicks is new here at Lousburg College, teaching Chemistry. He is doing a fine job we might add

The Science Department has made several changes and has added two new faculty members for academic year 1985-86. Dr. Patricia Palmer assumed the Chair of the Science Department replacing retiring Professor of Biology Seth Washburn. Dr. Gene Spears and Dr. Ronald Hicks are new additions to the Science Department offering it more diversity and challenge. Dr. Spears is an assistant professor of Biology and is a native of Asheville, N.C.. He received his Bachelor of Arts from the University of North Carolina at Asheville and his Masters and Ph.D. from the University of Florida. Dr. Hicks, assistant professor of Chemistry and physics received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and his Ph.D., from North Carolina State University. Dr. Hicks replaced C. Ray Pruette, who retired last year.

Social Science

Dr. George-Anne Willard, Chair of the Social Science department is busy planning activities for Louisburg's 200 year anniversary next year.

Wayne Benton teaches Western Civilization and is also interested in political and military history.

Robert Butler teaches courses in Sociology and in Marriage and Family.

Dr. Milton Gilbert teaches Western Civilization for the Social Science department.

Annette Holt teaches Economics for the Social Science department and sponsors the Young Democrats.

Walter McDonald teaches Introduction to Education for the Social Science department.

Dr. George-Anne Willard helps her students to have a better understanding of our western heritage

Dr. George-Anne Willard, chair of the Social Science Department, says the department is constantly looking for new ways to help students with study skills; Mr. Butler helps his students to understand the concepts of Marriage and Family. The Social Science department, as a whole, helps students with not only understanding our history, but the society we live in.

The Library

Judy Parrish, our Head Librarian, makes sure the library runs efficiently and smoothly.

Patricia Rogers, Assistant Librarian, is always willing to help find what they need.

Lois Crawford is our new Assistant Librarian this year.

Keith Roberts is Director of the Audio-Visuals and has also taken on the responsibility of being the advisor for the yearbook staff.

Eleanor Averette serves as Secretary of the library and helps keep everything in order.

The Cecil W. Robbins Library provides more than a quiet place to study, although it is a nice place to hit the books in peace and quiet.

Paula Crenshaw is enjoying the peace and quiet and the working space the library tables allow.

The Audio-Visual department, located in the basement of the library, has a wide variety of media kits, films, and video equipment which can be used by both faculty and students.

The Photography award was presented to Suzanne Colwell by Richard Byrd.

Given by Ray Mize, the Creative Writing award for 1985-86 goes to Jo Hodges.

The annual Awards Day program was held on April 29. It was a day to remember for those presented awards for academic achievements and service to Louisburg College. The tradition of Awards Day was paced by the singing of the college's Alma Mater, led by the Dean of Students J. Craig Eller. There were special remarks from President Norris and Dean Brown. The program was filled with applause and smiles. Truly it was a day of happiness and memories to treasure for a lifetime.

Awards Day 1986

This year's Most Valuable Player, Clyde Boyette accepts his trophy from Coach Frazier.

The Cortland V. Smith Award was presented to Tracey Walker for her outstanding service to the college and community

Together for the last hurrah are Suzanne Colwell, Jeff Caldwell, Joy Gurganus and Scott Bush.

Graduation '86

The graduate processional is led by Faculty Marshall, Whit Shearin, down the steps of Main Building.

Marching to the A.C. Building are three prospective graduates.

Waiting for the graduation processional to begin is Mark Hargrove

"Do not settle for shallow substitutes for anything in life. Integrity does not leave room for compromising moral standards," Professor Emeritus Sarah Foster told 132 graduates. Miss Foster gave an inspiring message to the new graduates embarking on new avenues of life. Some of us would be entering senior colleges and others of us to the work field. We started two years ago "On Our Own" but we were never alone. We had guidance from a college and its concerned faculty and administration. Yes, we were never alone.

Making certain that Dean Eller's academic hood is on properly is Betty Smith.

Professor Emeritus Sarah Foster addresses the 132 graduates of Louisburg College.

Waiting patiently, these graduates line up to hear their names called for their degrees.

Dean Brown and President Norris honor Sarah Foster for her 41 years of service to the college.

Watching the graduates march in for the services are Sidney Stafford, Sarah Foster, and President Norris

Sharing her happiness about graduation with a special friend is Jean Marie Wolff

Celebrating their graduation are Joe Smith and David Tarain.

Miss Sarah Foster

Miss Sarah Foster has been a member of the Faculty for over 20 years. She has been a part of many memorable moments in the history of the school. She has been a mentor to many students and has been a source of inspiration for many. She has been a part of many successful projects and has been a key player in many of the school's achievements. She has been a part of many of the school's most successful years and has been a key player in many of the school's most successful years. She has been a part of many of the school's most successful years and has been a key player in many of the school's most successful years.

Honoring Miss Foster and wishing her well in her retirement is William Hinton.

Getting a big laugh of her "roasting," Miss Foster remembers some of her funnier moments over the years.

COMMUNITY

There were many great acts presented at the Annual Folk Festival, including an outstanding performance from Mike Cross.

Playing the harmonica, Joseph Overton is showing his spirit in this year's festival competition.

Irvin Hunt was one of the many contestants in this year folk festival.

While some musicians make music with instruments, Nancy Owens is making music with glasses and a little water.

Live At The Folk Festival

Mike Cross, Dixie Darlin Cloggers and the Nashville Traditional Bluegrass Band were among the many excellent performing acts at the 15th Annual Franklin County Louisburg College Music and Dance Festival held in November. The Annual Folk Festival was a celebration in traditional folk music and dancing, it attracted many folk music enthusiasts from all over the state and country. Many people braved the rainy night for the excellent talent they would see. The festivities ended with participants, fans, and people who never square danced in their lives, on the stage of the A.C. Building. All in all, no one left unhappy.

Breakfast In Bed

Patiently waiting a turn is David Bethea and Nina Snyder while Nancy Lee creates wrinkles for Ben Whitaker.

The first production this year, put on by our own drama department, went rather well. The actors and actresses seemed to enjoy playing to a packed house. It would be safe to say that Breakfast In Bed was a total success. Charley-John Smith, the drama department director, is in his seventh year here at Louisburg College.

Obviously caught by surprise, it's Wendy Tharrington and Matt Roirden as Allison projects a cool stare.

While balancing on the ladder, Buddy Hyde assembles the lighting with expertise.

The members of the family gather closer for tea and a decision about where their rich cousin is to stay while in town.

Faking astonishment at the mention of a diamond mine is Gordon Harrison, as Robin Barnette makes him reread a familiar letter from a distant cousin

Trapped in a moment of romance, Kim Duke and Dallas Britt sneak an embrace

About The Town

Christmas

The local citizens participate in the parade festivities regularly, as these young twins are doing.

Even college students get excited about Santa Claus coming to town!

During the annual Christmas Parade and the play, "A Christmas Carol," there was a lot going on this year around the holidays. Santa Claus flew in for the parade, and a lot of locals, as well as college students, got out to see some of the festivities.

"A Christmas Carol" brought a touch of love and giving to the hearts of the people who found the time to see the performance. The story is about an elderly scrooge who changes his whole way of thinking because of his experiences with the ghost of past, present and future. It is a touching story which has been passed from generation to generation. It was well performed by the Louisburg College Players as well as a cast of local residents.

Santa Claus and his reindeer even had a chance to fly in for the parade and spread some Christmas spirit

During the play, "A Christmas Carol," Flynn King and Ralph Wall show their Christmas enthusiasm.

The ghost of present, David Stallings, pours a glass of Christmas spirits for Ebenezer Scrooge, played by C.J. Smith

Camelot

On With The Show

Portraying the humorous character of king Pellinore of the play "Camelot" is John Paul Perry.

King Authur, Lady Guenevere, and Pellinore watch with excitement the joust between Sir Lionel and Sir Lancelot

Sr Lionel, played by Jack Marchant, lies dying before King Authur, played by Charley-John Smith, and the "Royal Court "

Cultural Arts

Performing in a silhouette is the dance troupe of "Austin On Taps."

Sarah Weddington, former Presidential Aide to Jimmy Carter, speaks on "Women In The 80's."

Enlightening students and local residents on "Federal Financial Waste" is Joe Boshart.

Plotting their strategy in the course of the play are these actors in the Shakespaean production of "Twelfth Night "

Twelfth Night

There was a lot of action and excitement during the production of "Twelfth Night "

Louisburg And Its Landmarks

Above is a serene shot of Perry's Mill Pond, one of Franklin County's most beautiful points of interest. To the right is a familiar place to Louisburg College students and local residents. The Louisburg Theater shows many favorite movies that all people like to see.

"Silent Sam" keeps watch over the crosswalks on North Main Street

The Mill

Laurel Mill is a favorite place for many Louisburg College students and Franklin County residents.

Louisburg College students find the "Mill's" dam fun to swim and play around

The "Mill" is always a place for students to talk and relax

These college students find the run-off from the dam just as challenging to play on as to swim around

Finding the company and sunbathing pleasing is Max Coates

The National Convention

'86 Whistlers Convention

The Grand National Champion of the 13th Annual National Whistler's Convention is Joel Brandon.

Showing off his special instrument is Dr. Ugo Conti, one of the many contestants in the competition.

Last years Grand National Champion, Peter F. Hassell, chooses not to compete in this years competition

Is this child too young to realize that Chaplain Sid Stafford is dressed as Franklin County's namesake, Ben Franklin?

Dancing in the streets of Louisburg at the National Whistlers' Convention is Ray Mize and company

Remembering

Alumni Day 1986

The day for remembering and renewing old friendships was held on April 19th. Louisburg College celebrated Alumni Day with many former students returning to be a part of the festivities. There was a full day of activities planned for the Alumni. There was entertainment and a luncheon served in front of Jordan Student Center. Many of the faculty and present students spoke with the Alumni about the times past. All in all it was a day of telling 'war stories' and laughter. It was truly a day of remembering.

ATHLETICS

Lady 'Canes '86

Though the Lady Hurricanes basketball team did not have an overall successful win-loss record, the mark of a real team is how well they play together. These young ladies pulled together to become quite a family both on and off the basketball court.

The highlight of the season was their 74-70 defeat of Peace College to win the Region X Division championship. April Ford was named to the Region X all-tournament team, while Valerie Cooper, Mia Pinnix, and Cynthia Jones were named to the all-Eastern Division team.

Leading the Lady 'Canes in scoring for the season was Valerie Cooper with a 13 ppg average. Valerie also led the team in rebounding by grabbing 11 boards per game. Louisburg placed two team members in the top ten of the Region X field goal percentages. Denise Dingee led the team by hitting 61.1% of her shots while Suzanne Uzzell popped in 48.4% of her shots. Michelle Deal led the team in foul shooting with a 73.1% average. Leading the steal department was Mia Pinnix, who collected 39 steals during the season.

By pulling together when the going got tough they made for themselves a very memorable season.

Slipping by her opponent, Lisa Bruton takes the ball down court.

ORGANIZATIONS

Coming Together In

Student Gov't Association

The 1985-86 Student Government Association kept itself very busy the entire year with matters concerning the students of Louisburg College. "Of the students, for the students, by the students," as the saying goes. The officers and members of the SGA Senate were busy debating topics ranging from vandalism and security threats on campus, to reviewing the open house-policy used in the dorms. This years SGA was one of the most active in recent years. With strong leadership from the officers and guidance support from new advisor Kelli Mcleod, it was very successful.

▼ SGA Officers for 1985-86 are: Mark Hargrove, President, Tracey Walker, Treasurer, Mark Isley, Vice-President, and Sigrid Kesler, Secretary

▲ Advisor Kelli Mcleod goes over important material with President Mark Hargrove immediately prior to an SGA Senate meeting

SGA Committees

Disciplinary Committee members are: Bill Sabiston, Jody Robertson, Stuart Higgins, Jennifer Mann, Kelli McLeod, Candi Spain, and not pictured is Mary Catherine Clark.

Whether it was entertainment or disciplinary, the committees were all busy taking care of their individual responsibilities. The Disciplinary Committee was kept busy with matters of student discipline on campus. The Elections Committee was responsible for class elections in the fall, Homecoming elections in the winter, and SGA officer elections in the spring. The Entertainment Committee showed eight films during the year. The committee also sponsored five dances during the year including the Homecoming dance in November and the Spring Weekend dance in April. Also the Band Kruze performed at the Halloween dance in October. Ken Alcorn, a mime, performed in September and Edward Jackman a comedian and juggler performed in February. One of the major highlights of the year was the SGA Talent Show in November. The Publicity Committee helped the other committees with their publicity and advertising. Student Alumni Association

▼ SAA Officers for 1985-86 are: Bill Sabiston, Treasurer; Kelley Starns, Secretary; Mark Isley, Vice-President, and Tracey Burchette, President

This was the Association's first full year as an organization. It was started last spring to act as a means of communication between former alumni, students, and the college. This year, SAA assisted the Alumni and Development Office with its annual fund drive kick-off dinner for the patrons of Louisburg

College. The Association also helped out with the telefunds. During its first year, Tracey Burchette served as the Associate's President. With support and advise from advisors Conley Hilliard and Steve Burkhead, it was a highly successful year.

Res. Life Council

The RLC, an organization made up of Resident Assistants, Head Student Residents, Resident Director and other dorm members, plans all social and educational activities that take place in the residence halls. This council also serves as a court which can hear cases on the violation of rules that apply to residence life. Each dorm has its own RLC which participated in many successful activities throughout 1985-86. Some of these activities included Franklin and Merritt's "Big Chill" party, Hillman's movie weekend, Franklin and Wright's haunted house and Patten's donated Christmas tree for the Christmas formal and the CLC Christmas party for children.

The Columns

The 1985-86 Columns staff was the largest that it has been in many years. The staff had 23 members which included class students as well as volunteers. Rob Dunnington, the editor, had 1½ years experience as editor and showed a fine representation of strong leadership.

He spent hard long hours producing layouts for the Columns, and under his leadership some very phenomenal papers were published. Jeff Bullard, a volunteer, was another strong contributor to the Columns. His strong point of interest was the political side of the news.

On our own, but working as a team proved to be the successful link in producing the '85-'86 Oak. We were for the most part first-time yearbook staffers. But with determination and working long hours, we all were pleased in producing the 63rd volume of the Oak. In our efforts we represent the 199th year of Louisburg College's tradition of excellence, and its continual desire to be all it can be to those whom the college serves through educational means; the students and the community.
